profile:

Ted Hunt has a unique background in hands on experience within digital strategy and communications having held the role of Digital & Emerging Media Manager at innocent drinks from 2006-2010. Here he was solely responsible for building the 'digital brand' of one of the UK's most-loved companies across all UK websites and social media channels. He took the brand from having no social presence on his arrival, to being awarded No 1 in the Social Brands 100 list on his exit. Ted holds a Masters degree in Design Interactions from the Royal College of Art and is an invited Fellow of the Royal Society of Arts. He currently shares his time between creative strategy for some of London's most creative agencies/clients and ongoing self initiated research and independent design projects exploring technological applications and implications commissioned by / shown at renowned international galleries and institutions (visit: ted-hunt.com).

best self profile:

When I am at my best, I am heavily creatively and vision focused. I am enthusiastic about new ideas, concepts and trends and I craft bold innovative visions. I am an innovative problem solver who dedicates himself to the pursuit of the new. I deliver consistently better results when ownership and responsibility is given and will craft brave ambitious visions matched to realistic strategies for delivery. Recognition of thought leadership and achievements drive me to dedicate great efforts to better myself. I tend not to waste energy thinking about missed opportunities but will learn from failures. I stay focused and concentrate on what is possible and achievable within given resources but am highly ambitious in what I hope to achieve on micro and macro levels. I paint visions and provide new ways for people to think about things. I use metaphors and stories to do this and find interesting and compelling stories in everyday situations and experiences, helping people to understand new concepts. I strive to be interesting by being interested.

nice things people have said about me:

"Ted is a legend. A man who is capable of having great ideas, figuring out how to make them work and then making them a reality. He has a unique mix of creative and practical skills, and understands the digital world as much as any man on Earth. Really. And he smiles a lot. A great person to work with."

Dan Germain, Head of Creative, innocent drinks

"I strongly recommend Ted. He is a great creative with an impressive knowledge of the digital world. I really enjoyed working with him, both professional and fun, inspiring and pragmatic. He brought a lot to innocent communication over the last few years and I hope we will work together again."

Thomas Delabriere, Marketing Director, innocent drinks

"There's a guy called Ted and he's just doing these things. I've never asked him, he's never asked me, and I love that about having people that are passionate and do what they do best. That's the job of people running the business, to find out what the business needs and what an individual is passionate about, and match those two up and you're off to the races."

Richard Reed, Co-Founder, innocent drinks.
